WHY VETERANS ARE VALUED MEMBERS OF THE WORKFORCE

ACCREDITED SKILLS

Leadership, management, instructor, assessor, IT, language skills, health and safety and driving licenses. First aid and qualifications relating to trades, including catering and engineering. Training is nationally recognised and accredited.

RESOURCEFUL EMPLOYEES

Military trained personnel maintain strong intangible attributes including leadership, teamwork, integrity, social intelligence and self-regulation. Individuals need courage to do their job and to help them make bold decisions under pressure.

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Defence sits at the heart of communities. Becoming an Armed Forces friendly organisation allows you to align some of your CSR objectives in support of defence.

ENHANCED RECRUITMENT AND EMPLOYEE RETENTION

Demonstrating support for defence can help attract multi-talented job seekers. Support for the dual role of reservists offers extraordinary variation and development. This can improve employee retention and optimised business results.

REPUTATION

Defence recognises support at all levels. The Armed Forces Covenant and the Employer Recognition Scheme give employers a unique opportunity to pledge, commit, demonstrate and advocate support for defence and raise their corporate reputation.

WHO ARE WE?

The Recruitment Industry Initiative was created in 2019 as an extension of Ex-MilitaryCareers.com offering built around the key principles of the armed forces covenant. Ex-MilitaryCareers.com was launched in 2010, initially on social media, because we wanted to help the process of transition and resettlement for ex-military personnel and we realised that the process was often far from smooth and straightforward.

We established our jobs and training board, free to use for the ex-military, in 2013, and signed the armed forces corporate covenant in early 2014.

Our job search engine – which has over 600 registered businesses and 25,000+ registered candidates – has now been upgraded using industry leading technology to guarantee that Ex-MilitaryCareers.com is the most effective and cutting-edge online recruitment solution for our members.

We are part of the Trinnovo group and therefore ISO9001, investors in people gold award and members of APSco.

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

At Ex-Military Careers we provide a foundation mentorship platform. Here to support ex-service men and women with mentoring, education and career expenses as you begin your journey to establish a civilian career. We work with organisations committed to employing ex-military men and women and who see them as highly valuable assets to their business.

One of the commitments for the RII 100 is to embed confidence around military candidates and staff in recruitment.

We've included information and advice to help you either get started or progress your exciting armed forces friendly journey.
